

COGNITION TRAINING

Thank you for getting in touch regarding First Aid training for your studio or business.

The way we work our courses is that you purchase a course that can have up to 12 attendees. It is then up to you how many people you would like to attend the course: the fuller the class, the cheaper it becomes per person.

The cost of the course for up to 12 people is £600 (inclusive of course materials and certificates upon passing for each attendee). So by filling the course with a full 12 attendees it works out at just £50 per person.

It's up to you how many spaces you fill and who fills those spaces, whether it is exclusively people who work for or with you, or if you open it up to and charge friends, relatives, etc. for the remaining places you don't need.

For booking, we will discuss your preferred dates and location as we work with a number of experienced trainers across the UK and based on your requirements will need to match you with one. If you have any dates in mind we can get back to you and move forward should you wish to book this in.

Alternatively, if this is not something you are interested in at this point, we will be running a select number of courses throughout the year that are open for people to attend as a one off. These include ones that run alongside/after the Piercer Trade Show in Manchester and the annual UKAPP Conference.

If you have any questions please don't hesitate to reach out.

Olly Todd

P.S. We have also attached a booking form with the T&Cs for you.

